Ottawa National Wildlife Refuge

Are you interested in learning more about the birds that visit your backyard?
Bring your family to Ottawa National Wildlife Refuge for a free program.
We'll start indoors with a slide presentation about common backyard birds and then go out for a short walk.

Please dress to be outdoors. Beginners are welcome.

This program is FREE and open to the public.

We'll also discuss the Great Backyard Bird Count (www.birdsource.org/gbbc), and how you can get involved in scientific research the next weekend! Call (419) 898-0014 for more information.
